

Contents

Introduction	1
CHAPTER 1
Germination	3
Activities	21
CHAPTER 2
The Creative State	25
A Common Base	28
Physical Relaxation	28
Mental Relaxation	29
Developing Sensitivity	30
Exercising Your Imagination	33
Activities	34
CHAPTER 3
Getting Ideas	35
The Character Interview	35
Beginning With a Trait	41
Physical and Personality Traits	42
Word Association	44
Using Random Words	46
Observation and Memory	47
Beginning With an Object	48
Unrelated Actions	52
Stream of Consciousness	52
Given Circumstances	54
Activities	56

CHAPTER 4

Beginning a Script	59
Giving the Script Direction	59
Universality	60
Establishing Conflict	63
Intentions and Goals	66
Communication Through Implication	68
Hooking the Viewer	70
Activities	75

CHAPTER 5

Some Basics	77
What Is Theatre?	77
Theatre Imitates	79
Theatre as Imitation and Ritual	80
What Is Drama?	81
Theatre Conventions	84
Learning to Know Theatre	86
Some Rules of Writing	88
Activities	93

CHAPTER 6

Dramatic Structure	95
Frame of Reference	97
Types of Opposition	101
Plot	102
Elements of Plot	103
Dramatic Action	107
Activities	109

CHAPTER 7

Dramatic Structure II	111
Action and Subplots	112
Scenes	113
Selectivity	117
Other Types of Structures	119
Activities	121

CHAPTER 8

Audience and Theme	123
Choosing Your Audience	123
Types of Audiences	124
Gaining Audience Interest	127
Reaching Your Audience	128
Theme	130
Developing Subject Matter and Theme	131
Our Basic Needs	133
Write About What You Know	135
Determining Theme Through Selectivity	136
Genre	137
Tragedy	139
Comedy	140
Melodrama	142
Farce	142
Tragicomedy	143
Activities	143

CHAPTER 9

Characterization	145
Knowing Your Characters	145

Character Analysis	145
Determining Important Traits	158
Choosing the Number of Characters	158
Choosing Scenes for the Central Characters	158
Revealing Character	159
Determining the Play's Outcome	160
Activities	161

CHAPTER 10

Dialog	163
Learning to Hear Speech Patterns	164
Differences Between Everyday Speech and Dialog	165
Rules of Writing Dialog	165
Purposes of Dialog	166
Building Suspense and Intensity	169
Character Relationships	170
Physical Activity	173
Identifying With Your Characters	174
Revising the Dialog	174
Activities	175

CHAPTER 11

Planning and Revising	177
Details of the Planning	177
Exposition	178
The Story Line	187
Proportioning the Acts	188
Revising the Play	189
Activities	190

CHAPTER 12

Producing and Publishing 191

 Preparing the Manuscript 193

Selected Bibliography 200

About the Author 203