Introduction

Teens have feelings, too! They may express those feelings differently; they may see the world with a unique point of view; but teens have feelings that run as deeply as those of any sensitive adult.

Teens Have Feelings, Too! is a collection of 100 monologs for people ranging from about eleven to fifteen years of age. Each monolog runs from one to three minutes, offering characters that talk like, think like and feel like real-life teens.

The individual monologs are perfect as acting exercises or audition pieces. Mixed and matched, they can be combined to form a showcase filled with moments both humorous and profound.

Any way it's used, Teens Have Feelings, Too! celebrates a most volatile, formative and precious time in one's life, the years between childhood and grown-up, the era of the Pre and Early Teen.
